King back in the groove after double bad break

Warwickshire karting hot-shot Jordan King returned from practically a two-month injury lay-off with a bang in the third round of the 2008/09 KF3 Winter Series at his local circuit of Shenington - by overcoming a distinct lack of track time to post a top six finish.

A broken collarbone shortly after his final outing of 2008 at Sarno in Italy sidelined Jordan until PF International back at the beginning of January - a meeting which lasted all the way up until the opening lap of his first heat for the 14-year-old, who got collected in a start-line pile-up and was helpless as another kart came over the top of his steering wheel...and left him with two broken fingers.

With more enforced time out of the seat, the JRP star was by his own admission ill-prepared for his Shenington return - but he rapidly made clear his intention of getting himself back on the pace as quickly as possible, lapping second-quickest to 2008 KF3 Champion Jake Dennis in the wet as the pair were the only two drivers to dip below the 47-second barrier.

The reigning Super 1 Mini Max Vice-Champion's return to the competitive fray at Shenington also earned words of praise from his mechanic Stuart Wright, who is confident that together the pair can go one better this year - and lift the laurels both at home and abroad.

Kart Endurance Trophy Italy 2009

After having participated and organized for many years karting events, it happens that you stop an instant to reflect and to ask you to what event you would like really to take part in, what it would really excite you...

From that point you begin to ask yourself if you're the only one to desire what you are thinking and therefore you look for some confirmations: you ask, you call, you send e-mails, and you wait for the answers. If you get the 50% of the results that you already expected you're already in motion, if you overcome this threshold you are already racing.

Here we are racing to offer you a "Small Circus", not as that of the Formula 1, all over the world, neither as an European Championship (we know we can't ask you to pay a registration fee of about ten thousands of Euro), but a good Italian Trophy that brings you in a heterogeneous selection of circuits, to allow you to try different racing emotions, competing in an international Kartodrome, in a city circuit or in an Autodrome.

We want to put together Teams of enthusiasts and Corporate Teams, that can learn from each other while having fun of track. We want everybody to try the emotion and the pleasure to meet the other drivers more times in one year in five different places, to sportingly compete and to renew the challenge to the next competition, as happens to the Champions of every auto discipline.

Here you'll find all the details of our Kart Endurance Trophy 2009: [www.endurance trophy.com](http://www.endurance trophy.com). We confide to see you on the Starting Grid with Your Team, to shake you the hand and to sportingly wish you to get the best possible result.
